CREATIVE CONNECTIONS CORNWALL

18 JUN – 17 SEP

Denzil Forrester by Joy Gregory

Creative Connections Cornwall is a project about people and place, in partnership with the National Portrait Gallery and Mounts Bay Academy in Penzance. It connects young people from Cornwall with the award-winning artist, Joy Gregory, to explore the National Portrait Gallery's Collection.

The students' final selection of portraits includes Helen Glover, Gluck, Barbara Hepworth, Roger Hilton, D.H. Lawrence, Daphne du Maurier, and Harold Wilson, and forms the starting point for the exhibition.

The works range from photography to painting and drawing and include portraits by artists such as Terry Frost, Yvonne Gregory, John Hedgecoe, E. O. Hoppé, Ida Kar, Sebastian Kim, Man Ray, and Madame Yevonde. The exhibition also includes work and artefacts from local collections related to the sitters.

Together with portraits by Joy Gregory of people she has met in Cornwall, the students have made new photographs of people significant to them, to be shown alongside the portraits from the National Portrait Gallery's Collection.

Creative Connections Cornwall is funded by The National Lottery Heritage Fund and Art Fund with the generous support of the Palley family and additional support from The 29th May 1961 Charitable Trust.

Jerwood Art Fund Makers Open is a biennial opportunity that recognises and promotes the significance of making practice and process within contemporary visual arts. It supports artists and makers to develop their creative ideas, enabling them to experiment and take risks, with curatorial support.

This year's exhibition showcases five new commissions in a range of media: Anna Berry's sculptural installation of porcelain and concrete; Cecilia Charlton's triptych of Bargello embroideries; Jahday Ford's digital and hand-made glass vessels; Vicky Higginson's hand-blown 'healing devices'; and Francisca Onumah & Helena Russell's collaborative series of vessels and tools inspired by the silversmithing industry in Sheffield.

Jerwood Art Fund Makers Open is led by Jerwood Arts in partnership with Art Fund and Aberdeen Art Gallery.

The makers explore some common themes across their works such as the relationship between digital technology and traditional techniques, the potential of repetition in making, the power of tools, and the rich history of their material practices.

A networking weekend of activity for all the makers has been funded by Art Fund, and Cultivator, who are supported by the European Regional Development Fund, HM Government, Arts Council England, and Cornwall Council.

SUPPORT US

Your support enables creativity across our community.

We have built relationships with groups that have been more isolated and vulnerable over the last two years, from young parents, and older people living alone, to people that are socially prescribed non-clinical wellbeing help. We have supported Black Voices Cornwall and young LGBTQIA+ people to help us work with and exhibit artists that better represent their communities.

We are also working with ten schools across West Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly to support teachers to help children Think, Talk and Make Art.

We are able to do this work, in person and online, because of your support: in donations, shop sales, Supporter and Patron subscriptions, Penwith or Inspire Pass purchases, in legacy gifts, and in gift-aiding your admission.

By becoming a regular Supporter, for just £25 a year, or a Patron for £250, you are making this work happen. In return you are invited to openings, offered free admission and 10% discount on art, shop, café and event purchases, and Patrons' events. For details please see our website or ask in the gallery.

Tea, Cake and Art, our group for older people living alone, is supported by Cornwall Council through the Social Inclusion Fund.
