IN THE PICTURE ROOM

"Having been confined in psychiatric hospitals for 23 years and a care home for eight, Mr Woodhouse has somehow managed to keep writing and painting. The smaller pictures are part of a series he has done based on memories of these places."

The second son of artists Roger Hilton and Rose Hilton, Keith changed his name in 2010. Poets, actors, and other painters were part of Keith's early life and are a big influence on his work.

Keith went to school in Penzance and then attended London University, reading English but his mental health was already suffering. He was accepted into Falmouth School of Art where he 'proudly' failed the diploma.

Since a breakdown in 1988, Keith has been in and out of psychiatric hospitals, and currently lives in a care home in Devon.
